

One day there was a zoo in Africa.
It was a beautiful hot day. There was lots of animals in the zoo.
There was a giraffe called Mark who was very tall and very friendly. He had a friend called Holly who was kind and her skin pink and her skin was fluffy.
Mark said to Holly I think we should escape the zoo because I am bored. They decided to dig a giant hole and run away fast.

They found a beautiful blue shiny lake with a waterfall. They decided they wanted to live there forever.
Back at the zoo, the angry zoo keeper noticed that Holly and Mark were gone so he went to find them. He got to the lake and noticed they were there!
He shouted at them to get in the cage!
Holly and Mark saw the zookeeper and they were very scared.

They found a secret shiny portal behind the waterfall and decided to jump into it? Once they were through the portal they found themselves in a sunny beautiful land. Fluffy and warm lived happily ever after in their new home and the go keeper never saw them again.
